TURN THE CURVE
How are we doing on the most important (is anyone better off) of these measures?

 See Appendix for further graphs
STORY BEHIND THE BASELINES

Forces at work:
- Patchy attendance due to:
  - Families travelling to other communities
  - Cultural requirements (Sorry camp, Men's business)
  - Substance misuse by parents
  - Children having late nights and chaotic lives

Poor Running Records results
- No books/reading material at home
- Families illiterate
- Low expectations by all

Language proficiency poor (both Pitjantjatjara and English)
- Family, AEWs and teachers speak hybrid (pigeon) English and Pitjantjatjara
- Parental education levels low
- Aboriginal Education Workers (AEW) attend intermittently
- AEW and teacher planning for lessons inconsistent and unstructured
- Teachers not trained to teach ESL
- AEW not trained in bi-lingual support role

What would it take to turn the curves?
- Safe community (no fighting, no substance abuse, formal dispute resolution)
- Homes well resourced (washing machines, furniture, space for individual children to read, sleep etc)
- Whole community visibly values education—both school and Anangu
- Children speak Pitjantjatjara at home and go to school to learn both languages
- School provides breakfast, lunch, uniform, books
- Teachers speak only English, AEWs speak only Pitjantjatjara and tandem teach
- Cultural engagement in classroom and the school
- Adult literacy and parenting classes
PARTNERS
Who are the partners that have a role to play in making a difference?
- Parents/Families. Students
- AEW’s
- Whole community
- Service Providers (Shops, Police, CaFHS, CAMHS, Health Clinic)
- Religious leaders
- Cultural leaders
- DECD and other Support Professionals

WHAT WORKS?
What works to do better, including no cost/ low cost ideas?
- Building respectful relationships
- Teacher and AEW quality based on published pedagogy
- Formative assessment
- Leadership
- Positive environment
- Family involvement

ACTION PLAN
What do we propose to do?
1. Reading Strategy:
   - Book supply and home reading incentive program (have strategy underway??)
   - Buddy system instigated across the school
2. Community Engagement:
   - Governance training for Fregon Governing Council
   - Family night to inform what is happening at school organized by AEWs 1x term
   - Cultural Day 2x term at school
   - Bush trips
3. Professional development:
   - AEW and Teachers jointly plan lessons weekly
   - PD- Big6
   - PD – formative assessment
